JULY 2017

The summer of 2017 has seen some amazing achievements for Standing Voice. Our Vision Programme is going from strength to strength, with our latest clinic serving 465 patients with albinism in Dar es Salaam this June. Our wonderful partnerships with both the Pierre Fabre Foundation and Kennington Overseas Aid have continued to produce life changing results in both our Skin Cancer and Vision Programmes, whilst our project with the Wellcome Trust have seen artists and geneticists from across the globe team up to deliver interactive theatre throughout Tanzania. This June we also implemented our brand new Summer Skills Workshop; a training project that gave people with albinism and their families the tools to shape their own futures, culminating in celebrations for International Albinism Awareness Day. Finally, Standing Voice welcomed the Tanzania Albinism Collective to the UK; a group of musicians making the journey of a lifetime to perform their music for an audience of hundreds.
